

BABY SIGNS[®]

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATOR TRAINING

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the infants and toddlers in your care could communicate what they need, see, and feel without having to resort to tears and tantrums? Well, thanks to the Baby Signs[®] Program, the world's leading sign language program for babies, effective communication is not only possible, but fun and easy to achieve. With the help of the Baby Signs[®] Early Childhood Educator Training, child development programs of any size—big or small—can soon begin enjoying the benefits that come from incorporating signing into daily interactions between children and teachers.

These include...

- Reducing tantrums and tears
- Decreasing biting and other aggressive behaviors
- Building trust and affection between babies and teachers
- Providing a common language for teachers, babies and parents in bilingual settings
- Supporting language and cognitive development

The Baby Signs[®] Early Childhood Educator Training is a 3-hour training that provides background information and specific techniques to help you implement this research-based early-intervention program within your child development center or agency.

Attendees will receive valuable signing resources and learn. . .

- about the research upon which the Baby Signs[®] Program is based,
- the many proven benefits of adding the Baby Signs[®] Program to classrooms
- 32 of the most useful classroom signs,
- how to teach signs to infants and toddlers,
- how to incorporate signs into daily classroom routines, and . . .
- helpful strategies for success with parents, staff, and children.

Saturday afternoon February 1st, 12pm to 3pm
