The 501c3 nonprofit organization: Padma Sherni Inc. started in order to promote health and education access across the lifespan, and multicultural awareness through the arts!

Padma Sherni Inc. has a strong interest in increasing the rate of developmental screenings and related referrals for literacy and health promotion. The founder started this nonprofit organization to focus on efforts like education as a path out of poverty, alongside of mentorship, social policy research and project evaluation in collaboration with others who have similar goals. A recent projects that the organization is trying to do is

The Music & Literacy Promotion Project in Preschools for Understanding how shared reading and guided and free play with music, supports literacy/numeracy skills in young children while supporting learning enrichment in lower quality rated preschools striving to achieve 4 or 5 stars in a quality rating improvement system.

We have also hosted a multicultural show to celebrate diversity through song, dance, and theater skits, while raising money for developmental screening toolkits for assessors who rely on resource libraries in lower income preschool neighborhoods.
